Which travel insurance plan to choose from?

The key to staying safe overseas is often in the preparation and travel insurance is an important accessory to have. While it can be tempting to take the chance and hope to get away without getting travel insurance, the cost of medical treatment overseas can be crippling should an unfortunate event arise. Here are some recommendations on choosing a travel insurance plan:

Annual Plan - If you plan to travel frequently in the next 12 months, consider getting an annual plan as it is not only cost saving, but also saves you the hassle of getting an individual travel insurance plan each time you travel abroad.

Single Trip Plan - If you are travelling not more than 3 times a year and not more than 31 days for each trip, then a single trip plan is recommended for you.

Family Plan - Travelling with your loved ones? Choose the family plan as it is more cost-effective and provides cover for you, your spouse and your children.
